Space City Credit Union announces the promotion of Nikki Moore to Executive Vice President.

(May 18, 2012) – Houston, TX. – Space City Credit Union is pleased to announce that Nikki Moore has been promoted to the position of Executive Vice President. We're excited about the future of the credit union and Nikki is a key component in the development and execution of our business plan, states Craig Rohden, President and CEO of Space City Credit Union. Nikki is very talented and aligns well with our service model and corporate strategies that are focused on providing exceptional member service.

Nikki was previously the Vice President of Operations and focused on marketing, member services, and operations. In her new role, Nikki will focus on business development, executive management, and the credit union as a whole.

Nikki is the consummate credit union professional with a strong desire to serve the membership. Nikki is active in the credit union community and serves on several committees, including the Texas Credit Union League's Marketing Council. She is also in her third and final year of CUNA Management School.

Recently, Nikki was honored by being appointed to the Texas 12, a new initiative developed by the Texas Credit Union League and the Filene Research Institute. The Texas 12, comprised of 12 young credit union professionals, is charged with helping to catalyze change and spark positive growth in credit unions.

Nikki received her undergraduate business degree in marketing from the University of Houston and is pursuing her MBA from Texas A&M University – Commerce.
